

Original DRAFT Fall 2013

Hawai'i Pacific University Institutional Level Outcomes ILOs by Degree (AA/AS, BA/BS, MA/MS)

Institutional Learning Outcomes (ILOs) express a shared, university-wide articulation of expectations for degree recipients. They are developed through academic and co-curricular environments, and to serve to extend our students' understanding of the world and develop effective new responses to professional, personal, and intellectual challenges and opportunities. Our ILOs define what graduates of Hawai'i Pacific University are expected to develop as a result of their general education, major or graduate program studies, and co-curricular activities.

Associate	Bachelors	Masters
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning5. Oral Communication	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning5. Oral Communication6. Hawai'i and Pacific Knowledge	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Scholarly or Creative Mastery

NOTE: The ILO's for Critical Thinking, Information Literacy, Written Communication, Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning, Oral Communication will be updated after the rubrics are developed, reflecting student assessment at the different degree levels (associate, bachelors, and masters).

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Associate Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the associate's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to identify, locate, assess, and employ valid source material ethically and legally in his or her pursuit of academic knowledge at the associate's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the associate's level.
4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning – Students will interpret, calculate, analyze, and clearly communicate quantitative information using mathematical, statistical, or symbolic reasoning to solve complex problems at the associate's level.
5. Oral Communication – Students will demonstrate the ability to effectively express himself or herself, idiomatically and compellingly, in a variety of spoken formats at the associate's level.

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Bachelor's Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the bachelor's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to identify, locate, assess, and employ valid source material ethically and legally in his or her pursuit of academic knowledge at the bachelor's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the bachelor's level.
4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning – Students will interpret, calculate, analyze, and clearly communicate quantitative information using mathematical, statistical, or symbolic reasoning to solve complex problems at the bachelor's level.
5. Oral Communication – Students will demonstrate the ability to effectively express himself or herself, idiomatically and compellingly, in a variety of spoken formats at the bachelor's level.
6. Hawai'i and Pacific Knowledge – Students will increase their knowledge of Hawai'i and the Pacific and analyze different issues and viewpoints related to the unique place in which they have chosen to live and study.

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Master's Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the master's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to identify, locate, assess, and employ valid source material ethically and legally in his or her pursuit of academic knowledge at the master's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the master's level.
4. Scholarly or Creative Mastery – Students will complete a thesis, project, or performance, demonstrating advanced knowledge, skills, and perspectives at the master's level within their field, which contributes to their discipline.

REVISED DRAFT Submitted to Faculty Assembly May 2014 for Review

Hawai'i Pacific University Institutional Level Outcomes ILOs by Degree (AA/AS, BA/BS, MA/MS)

Institutional Learning Outcomes (ILOs) express a shared, university-wide articulation of expectations for degree recipients. They are developed through academic and co-curricular environments, and to serve to extend our students' understanding of the world and develop effective new responses to professional, personal, and intellectual challenges and opportunities. Our ILOs define what graduates of Hawai'i Pacific University are expected to develop as a result of their general education, major or graduate program studies, and co-curricular activities.

Associate	Bachelors	Masters
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning5. Oral Communication	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning5. Oral Communication	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Critical Thinking2. Information Literacy3. Written Communication4. Scholarly or Creative Mastery

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Associate Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will identify and explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the associate's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to recognize and articulate an information need, and to access, evaluate, and use relevant source material effectively, ethically, and legally in their academic pursuits at the associate's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the associate's level.
4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning – Students will interpret, calculate, analyze, and clearly communicate quantitative information using mathematical, statistical, or symbolic reasoning to solve complex problems at the associate's level.
5. Oral Communication – Students will demonstrate the ability to effectively express themselves in a spoken format at the associate's level.

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Bachelor's Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will identify and explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the bachelor's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to recognize and articulate an information need, and to access, evaluate, and use relevant source material effectively, ethically, and legally in their academic pursuits at the bachelor's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the bachelor's level.
4. Quantitative Analysis & Symbolic Reasoning – Students will interpret, calculate, analyze, and clearly communicate quantitative information using mathematical, statistical, or symbolic reasoning to solve complex problems at the bachelor's level.
5. Oral Communication – Students will demonstrate the ability to effectively express themselves in a spoken format at the bachelor's level.

By graduation, Hawai'i Pacific University Master's Degree graduates will have developed:

1. Critical Thinking – Students will identify and explain issues, analyze evidence, assess assumptions, define their own perspectives and positions, and present the implications and consequences of their conclusions at the master's level.
2. Information Literacy – Students will demonstrate the ability to recognize and articulate an information need, and to access, evaluate, and use relevant source material effectively, ethically, and legally in their academic pursuits at the master's level.
3. Written Communication – Students will organize their thoughts and feelings, synthesize relevant information and concepts, and effectively, clearly, and persuasively communicate their perspectives through written language at the master's level.
4. Scholarly or Creative Mastery – Students will complete a capstone project (thesis, portfolio, professional paper, or performance) that demonstrates advanced knowledge, skills, and perspectives that contribute to their discipline at the master's level.