Mission

The history major at Hawai'i Pacific University provides students with a solid foundation in the field of historical studies and its methodologies. It offers broad exposure to the past, chronologically and geographically, through a required sequence of courses studying in-depth American, Asian, European, and Pacific histories. The major's capstone course is a seminar resulting in a major piece of research and synthesis. The history major develops skills and a base of knowledge to prepare the student for graduate study in history. It also enables one to pursue careers drawing upon competency in research, writing, analysis, comparative perspectives, multicultural sensitivities, foreign language ability, and related skills relevant for managerial positions in a variety of changing markets.

Academic Year 2024

Bachelor of Arts in History Learning Outcomes

PLO-4-Global Systems

Recognize the nature of global processes, as they operate in an historical framework, through the study of global systems such as capitalism, gender, warfare, religion, etc.

MEASURES	RESULTS	ACTIONS
Review of BA-HIST PLO-4, Global Systems See attached program review report. Direct - Assignment Target The acceptable target is at least 75% of student work meeting or exceeding the program learning objective. The ideal target is at least 80% of student work meeting or exceeding the program learning objective. SPRING 2024-Program Review-Global Systems.doc	MET SPRING 2024-Program Review-Global Systems.doc Analysis See attached program review report.	No actions have been added.

PLO-6-Written and Oral Communication

Effectively and clearly communicate historical ideas both orally and in writing.

MEASURES	RESULTS	ACTIONS
Assessment of Oral Communication Program Learning Outcome See attached report. Direct - Assignment Target The acceptable target is at least 75% of student work meeting or exceeding the program learning objective. The ideal target is at least 80% of student work meeting or exceeding the program learning objective.	MET SPRING 2024-Program Review-Oral Comm.doc Analysis See attached report.	No actions have been added.

SPRING 2024-Program Review-Oral Comm.doc		